HOAGLAND'S
NEW PATENT SHAFT COUPLING!
W. E. COOPER
HAS PURCHASED THE RIGHT FOR THIS County of the above Patent and will hereafter use it in the construction of all the Vehicles manufactured at his extensive
Carriage Factory,
Corner of Second and Morrison Streets.
He respectfully refers to the following
CARD.
Having examined the New Patent Shaft Coupling, invented by H. R. Hoagland, we feel pleasure in informing the public that in our opinion it is the safest and best method of connecting shafts or tongues to all vehicles that has ever been used.
It fastens without bolt or screw and is therefore easily and speedily separated. It rests on Gutta Percha so as to be entirely free from the rattling sound which so often disturbs restless horses. It is easily changed so that the shafts or tongue may be detached in an instant, and is convenient, safe and secure.
It is easy to change to this style of coupling any buggy or other vehicle now in use, and with small expense. We have come to the conclusion to use this new invention ourselves and recommend its use in all cases. We consider it far superior to the Brewster Patent, heretofore considered the best in use.

DATES TO SEPTEMBER 21.

New York News.

NEW YORK Sept 20.—The Rector at the St. Albans Episcopal church preached a remarkable sermon yesterday affirming that the Episcopal and Roman Catholic belief are positively alike though the members don't commune together, owing to intrigues at the Court of Rome during the reformation. He says the two churches are really but one, and hopes to see the day when both will be united in communion under the latter name. The sermon created much excitement among the hearers, many of whom were Protestants from other denominations.

The El Cor[illegible], a Spanish journal published here, says we can't have Cuba. It threatens the United States with war and demonstrates that a war with Spain means speedy ruin to the United States. Spain would blockade New York, Philadelphia and Boston with ironclads and wooden frigates, while flying divisions would destroy our arsenals. "Are we provoked to war then let us have it. Henceforth we offer what we have, and even what may be realised from the sale of El Cornista establishment, and our own person besides. God will watch our family and these heroes. Spain forever!"

The Captain of the ship Southampton has arrived from Tehauntepec and the west coast of Mexico. He reports that between latitude 52° 56 south, longitude 46 he saw a hundred very large icebergs, one from seven to eight miles in length and from three to four hundred feet high.

The heat to-day is intense for the season. A case of sunstroke is reported.

The managers of various Western competing lines to-day received orders to continue their contracts this week for the transportation of dry goods and general merchandise to Western cities. The same cheap rates are adopted by the Pennsylvania Central, Erie and New York Central roads.

Several months since the Board of Aldermen adopted a resolution calling on all Congressmen of this city to urge the recognition of the independence of Cuba at the next session.

The Royal Insurance Company contest the payment of a policy of $10,000 to the second wife of a deceased policy holder on the ground that the policy was made out in the name of the first wife and not changed after re-marriage, after her death. The decision is not given.

The paper stainers struck to-day. One hundred employed in 12 establishments went out.

The Tammany delegates to the State Convention include W M Tweed, S J Tilden, S S Cox, George Low, and Oakley Hall.

Telegraph Matters

CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—President Orton and Superintendent Stages, of the Western Union Telegraph Company, start for California in a few days on a tour of inspection with a view of perfecting the overland telegraph service.

Fire at Rochester

ROCHESTER, Sept. 20.—The Empire Hotel, Fellows' hardware store, Ellis' drug store and several other buildings were burned; loss $50,000, mostly insured.

A Destitute Family

BALTIMORE, Sept. 20.—A party of persons, consisting of O. T. Shafe and family, were found on the road near this city on Saturday, in a most destitute condition, without money, starving and nearly naked. They left home in Leavenworth, Kansas, February last, for Philadelphia, where they had friends, and had walked all the way, subsisting on charity. Liberal subscriptions were given them here.

Murders in Kentucky.

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 20.—A terrible affray occurred at Stanford, Lincoln county, Kentucky. Capt. Napier, sheriff of the county, while attempting to arrest Samuel Holmes, was shot and instantly killed by him. Ed. Davidson, City Marshal, who came to the sheriff's assistance, was mortally wounded. Great excitement prevails, and a reward of a thousand dollars is offered for Holmes' arrest. Holmes is said to be a vagabond, doing nothing for a living.

Railroad Accident.

WAVERLY, N. Y. Sept 20.—At half past three this A. M. the express train on the Pennsylvania and New York railroad collided at Athens, Pennsylvania, with a way train standing on the track. Two persons were killed and several wounded. A dense fog prevented the engineer of the express train from seeing the signals.

Fire at Nashville.

NASHVILLE, Sept. 20. The large foundry of Andrew Anderson was set on fire last night in the pattern room and the entire stock of patterns lost. It was the most complete foundry in the South, and cost $40,000 but it can't be replaced by double that amount. There was no insurance. An attempt was made Saturday to burn the foundry of Stewart Yerger.

Rascality in New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, Sept 20.—The United States District Attorney has entered suit in the Circuit Court against Geo B Stemen Internal Revenue Collector of this district and his sureties for over $600,000, the amount found due to the United States after the adjustment of his account by the proper officer.

Ex Collector of Customs, Fuller, brought here charged with complicity in the custom frauds, has been admitted to bail in the sum of $20 000.

Affairs in Tennessee

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 20.—At Clarksville, Tennessee, yesterday two desperadoes named Clark and Brannen engaged in a cutting affray and fairly butchered each other. Clark was mortally hurt and Brannen probably so.

Southern States.

RICHMOND, Sept. 21.—Gov Walker will be inaugurated to-day.

The following information is from Jones county, N. C., which adjoins Lenoir, where the arrests of eighteen members of the Ku Klux were recently made. A few evenings ago David Green a respectable citizen of Jonescounty, while crossing Chinquapin creek on his way home was fired at by a party of men concealed in the undergrowth. Eleven buckshot took effect, 7 in one side and 4 in the head. He was carried into a house, where at last accounts he was dying. As Green was a Democrat it is supposed that members of Loyal League attempted to assassinate him.

A dispatch from Norfolk states that three negroes were swallowed up by a dreadful conflagration now raging in Dismal swamp. They were employed in getting out lumber and were surrounded by the fire while sleeping in a hut. They were burned to a crisp.

MEMPHIS Sept. 20.—In Arkansas on Friday a negro entered the house of a young lady named Cooly, knocked her insensible with an iron bar, dragged her to the woods and outraged her. She is not expected to recover. The negro is arrested and confined in jail.

Cincinnati Dispatch

CINCINNATI Sept 21.—The School Board Committee to-day conferred with Archbishop Purcell with regard to removing obstacles to Catholic parents sending their children to public schools. The Archbishop states as his ultimatum that the entire government of public schools in which Catholics are educated can't be given over to the civil power. Catholics cannot approve the system of education apart from instruction in the Catholic faith and teachings of the Catholic church. The Archbishop says that he will use every effort while in Rome to procure such modification of the rules as may remove obstructions to their attendance.

To-night two men entered the house of Michael Fonarty and out and beat both himself and his wife so badly that their lives are despaired of. The cause of assault is unknown. The assassins escaped.

Base Ball Benevolence.

PHILADELPHIA Sept 21.—A game of base ball was played this afternoon for the benefit of the Avondale sufferers, between the Athletics and Keystone of this city and resulted in favor of the Athletics 32 to 31. The receipts were near six hundred dollars.

Miscellaneous

UTICA Sept 20.—Horatio Seymour is selected as a delegate to the Democratic Convention.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE

LONDON Sept. 20. Paris correspondence of the Times says the Emperor's recovery has caused a fiery debate which has begun between the Emperor's party and the friends of Prince Napoleon. The rivalry has already displayed each faction and gives a forecast of what is in store for France when the death of the Emperor lets his family loose, and gives up the State to their unseemly discord.

The Post says it now appears that America only made friendly representations to the Madrid Government in favor of the reasonable demands of the Cubans. It is probable that Napoleon suggested to the Regency that Spain should act considerately toward Cuba, and so disarm American influence. The French Government favors a conciliatory policy at Madrid and non intervention at Washington.

The Standard says Prim's attempt to induce England and France to join in a protectorate for Cuba failed.

A demonstration in favor of the imprisoned Fenians took place. The processions marched to Trafalgar Square. Six thousand people were present. Moore, member of Parliament for Mayo, presided. On taking the chair he condemned the English government for the prolonged incarceration of political offenders. He said England could only be compared with Russia. He hoped the people would no longer [illegible] such [illegible] vilify and demanded the liberation of the prisoners. Several other speakers followed. Resolutions asking the unconditional pardon of the Fenians were unanimously adopted. The proceedings were very enthusiastic.

The Times regards the celebration of the Humboldt anniversary in Berlin as shabbier than any city of the Old or New World. There was a total absence of the upper classes, because they regarded the festival as a liberal demonstration and it was not believed by the congratulations of Princes and Princesses.

LISBON, Sept. 20.—The steamer from Rio Janeiro has arrived.

Dispatches received from Asuncion, dated Aug ust 15th, report that the allies captured Azuara and Pirebebuy. Lopez had fled and the Paraguayans can no longer continue the struggle. The Provisional government had been installed at Asuncion. The above news caused great rejoicing in Brazil and the Argentine confederation and the war is considered ended. Buenos Ayres, Montevideo and Rio Janeiro were illuminated.

BRUSSELS, Sept. 20. The Independance Belge thinks it improbable that Prim would claim the good offices of England and France to prevent the recognition of the Cuban insurgents by the United States. If he should make such a demand he certainly would receive a negative answer, but should the answer of either country be favorable, the intervention of a third party would be sure to lessen the chances of success for Spain. The Washington administration will follow the policy based on the public opinion of the country with prudence and consideration. Should that course lead to the recognition of Cubans, no suggestion from Europe could have any effect.

PARIS, Sept. 20.—The Journal des Debates believes France and England are disposed to support Spain with their counsel, but the menacing character of affairs has considerably diminished the reasonable hope that the misunderstanding with the United States can be brought to a satisfactory termination.

PARIS, Sept. 20.—Rumors are current that Prussia is about to annex the Grand Duchy of Baden.

GENERAL NEWS ITEMS

E. A. Pollard, whose wits have long been turned inside out, is now writing for the New York Times, and turning his name wrong end foremost, thusly—"Drallopea."

The New York Tribune, of September 3d, says: The National Temperance Convention at Chicago is likely to be remembered for its excellent intentions rather than its wise performances. We doubt whether the formation of a Temperance party in opposition to the leading political parties now in existence is either timely or practicable, and we cannot but regret that the wise counsels which were urged at the Convention did not prevail.

The craziest paper in America, says an exchange, is Miss Susan B Anthony's Revolution. Since dog days began the thing has been rabid. It is furious on the subject of "dress reform." There are in the future to be neither hats nor bonnets. Men are to be dressed in knee breeches while the women are to wear something of the hybrid order, half Swiss peasant and half theatrical page. What an awful time slim legs will have when this reform comes to town.

An exchange paper thus epitomizes the Democratic party: "Pledged to oppose Chinamen in California and negroes in Ohio, but affiliating with both in Virginia and Tennessee; supporting repudiation in Ohio and Kentucky, and compelled to oppose it in New York and Pennsylvania; denouncing military usurpation in Texas but having a Governor to uphold in New York for taking military possession of a railroad—the Democratic managers have a heavy and inharmonious load to carry."

A correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial writing from Knoxville reviews the political situation in Tennessee, and arrived at this conclusion: "The original Union men and Republicans will be compelled to take back seats for a while and fitness for office will be measured by the standard of faithful service in the armies of the Confederacy. Then the original Union men, Senter Republicans and Radical Republicans will unite in one party, and will be able to carry the State."

Vallandigham remarked to an interviewer the other day that J. Q. Adams' talk about the Democratic party discarding "men of obsolete ideas" was all gammon. Said the martyr: "If he means those men who so strenuously battled against the despotism of Lincoln, and who stood staunch by the Democratic party in the darkest hours of its history, he errs most egregiously. These unswerving and tried adherents to the Democratic faith ought not to be cast one side when the danger is over."

Revenue stamps are not subject to taxation as personal property by municipal corporations or by individual States. The city of Boston recently assessed a tax of $232 upon the stock in trade of a dealer in internal revenue stamps, and the amount having been paid under protest, action was brought to recover the tax. The Supreme Court of Massachusetts on this question, decided that internal revenue stamps are instruments of the General Government for the collection of revenue and to vouch for its payment, and otherwise have no intrinsic value. Hence they are exempt from taxation.

THE SANDS OF LIFE. Years ago there was a fellow who advertised in the papers that a retired physician whose sands of life had nearly run out had discovered a sure cure for consumption and general debility. He offered to send the the recipe free of charge on the ground that he was conferring a great boon upon humanity and did not want to make money out of the business. But it happened that that there was one article in the prescription that no druggist could furnish and the parties wishing it were obliged to apply for it to the advertiser. He used to charge them two dollars for an article that cost him five cents and in this way he made an enormous fortune and retired. He has had lots of imitators since he left the business, the most active one being an individual in Williamsburg, who professes to cure all sorts of nervous debility. He receives about a bushel of letters daily, and keeps two or three clerks busy answering them. A man who used to be in his employ but has now left him says the fellow's profit is not less than $100 a day and that those who buy his medicines are injured by them more than they are benefitted.

THE WEST.

The Boise Statesman continues to give flattering accounts of the Loon Creek mines.

A young lady of Oakland, California, named Catharine Callahan, has been arrested and fined $10 for drunkenness and malicious [illegible] of her mother. She is but eighteen years of age. Splendid subject for Anna Dickinson.

Mr Seward will sail in the Panama steamer on the 30th inst. for Manzanillo. He will there be met by an escort to take him to the City of Mexico. Senor Godoy, the Mexican Consul at San Francisco, has written to his Government to prepare for Seward's reception.

A Boston paper of recent date says that twenty car loads of butter lately went through Cheyenne for California the contract for which was made over the Atlantic Cable by a firm in Liverpool with a firm in Chicago, at [illegible] cents per pound. The butter is consigned to an English house in Hongkong, Pekin and Canton.

When the Cincinnati City [illegible] were in Elko a few days ago, they noticed a wagon load of volcanic rock [illegible] to fill in the foundation for a new building, which they [illegible] told by a wag was rich silver ore. Accordingly each of the party filled his pockets with the worth[illegible] and [illegible] away with big [illegible] of the [illegible].

Miller and [illegible] were [illegible] They [illegible] in the [illegible] at Treasure [illegible] was the [illegible] of the firm. Mrs. R[illegible] [illegible] at Little York. Miller [illegible] and the two ran away to [illegible] to Nevada City, and the hotel [illegible] Miller and wife, left next morning for [illegible] At last accounts R[illegible] was [illegible] in the direction of the City of the Plains, revolving plans for the subjugation of his truant [illegible] and making it very warm for his partner.

The Owyhee Tidal Wave [illegible] William Coombs, who has had a [illegible] in his [illegible] mystery equal for about four years, [illegible] for the last two years giving him [illegible] pain and distress,—conceived the idea of trying to destroy it by drinking vinegar. Accordingly he drank a pint of strong vinegar at a draught, and in a short time drank another pint. During the following night the animal was expelled from his bowels. It was about thirty inches in length and one inch in diameter. Coombs, who was reduced to a skeleton, is rapidly recovering.

A stage was upset near Salt Lake City a few days ago, and one of the passengers [illegible] hurt. He was taken to the city and [illegible] lodgings with a Mormon family. A [illegible] after and before he was able to get about, the Mormon accused him of seducing his wife. The man denied it and the woman [illegible] [illegible] him to leave the city. This he was unable to do [illegible] his injuries. He was taken from the house by the Mormon and his friend, and horsewhipped, until he was supposed to be dead. He afterwards [illegible] and was cared for. When he [illegible] he [illegible] leave that Mormon a token of remembrance.

A few days since an ex-Governor met Mayor McCoppin, and in the course of conversation [illegible] that [illegible] was nearly full, and they would feel highly gratified to have his Honor join them. "Well, yes," replied McCoppin, "let me see, what [illegible] do you refer to?" "Why, the [illegible] Lives [illegible]" was the reply. "[illegible]," said ex [illegible] instead," retorted Mr. McCoppin, and, turning on his heel, he strode away.

Seward at Salem.
[From the [illegible] Union.]

Seward's speech at Salem fairly illustrates his capacity for minute observation and broad generalization. His remarks upon Astoria, Willamette, Oregon and the Pacific [illegible] scarcely omit anything worthy of note, yet include all the comprehensive [illegible] of statesmanlike thought. Indulging in no flattery, not stooping to [illegible] levity, he tells the people of Oregon just what their local position and destiny are, and then lifts them to the higher standpoint, where they may see that [illegible] of a common country, and as such partakers of a natural growth and expansion far more just and beneficial to them than can be any contracted local interests. Let us note this point carefully. Says the venerable statesman: "The territorial lines which divide one political jurisdiction into distinct States not unnaturally tend to circumscribe and confuse our views of the [illegible] of each of the several States. [illegible] by the name of Oregon, some of whose inhabitants may conceive the future of the State to be less promising because it includes neither of the great ports San Francisco or Puget Sound, within its [illegible]. Yet by virtue of the Union, the State maintains its natural connections with both these ports, and must reap all the advantage possible [illegible]. This effect of the Union, it will be seen is, not a mere 'foreign affair'; it does not pertain to the foreign relations of the State, but concerns its industrial and commercial interests of a local character. In fine, Oregon could not obtain its true local development except as a part of the Union. This is just as true of the other States; yet we have no end of Democratic assertion that the prosperity of each State depends mainly upon the fact of an exclusive, sovereign, local government, with the right to sever it from the Union if it deem fit. We might as well talk of severing a hand from the human body, or of drawing air line imaginary boundaries [illegible] the heart, stomach liver and other vital organs, and [illegible] ing each as sovereign, and regarding the welfare of all as mainly derived from the absolute independence of each. The fact is that it is not the independence but the dependence of State and State which is absolute and vital. The lines drawn between them are more arbitrary, confines as much as those between counties, and are as meaningless except for convenience of local administration. The rivers, railroads and telegraphs which overrun all are the veritable arteries and nerves of one body politic, which all this [illegible] gogues in the world cannot convince us [illegible] for its prosperity upon [illegible] either commercial or political, but upon having one common, free, broad and fearless national life in which administration may be local, but policy must be general."

THE COTTON CROP OF 1869—DEVELOPMENT OF THE SOUTH.—From the Selma, (Ala.) Times of August 29th we copy the following:

The estimate from well informed sources places the number of bales of cotton that the South will raise this year at 3,000,000, and it is, we think perfectly safe to calculate on 2,500,000 bales. And we think there are equally reasonable grounds to assert that the average price will be at least twenty five cents per pound. If the crop amounts to 3 000 000 of bales and brings twenty-five cents it will bring into the country $300,000,000, and if only 2 500 000 bales be raised at twenty-five cents we will receive for it $250,000,000. And a large proportion of this amount will be surplus for investment, as it will not be required by the planter to pay off debts. A comparatively small portion of it will be required for purchasing supplies for another year for Southern planters generally have profited by the lessons of the past, and have raised grain crops in addition to cotton.

The Southern people and especially the planters are in a better condition financially than they have ever been since the war, for they are comparatively free from debt, and as there are no negroes to buy and no necessity of adding to their landed property this vast sum of money can be devoted to building foundries, factories, mills, importing improved machinery, increasing our present means of transportation, opening new routes of commerce, and the development generally of the resources of the country. Ten per cent. on two hundred and fifty millions is twenty five millions, and even if this sum alone were expended in enterprises of the kind we have mentioned, in the sections where the cotton was [illegible], what a tremendous difference it would make; and if the system was kept up for a few years, the South would soon become the most independent and the richest country on the face of the earth.

The Daily Oregonian

WEDNESDAY MORNING, SEPT. 22, 1869.

A New Basis for Organization.

The Herald admits that Chinese labor is employed in connection with the publication of that paper, but justifies by saying that it can't be helped. Democrats are forced to employ Chinamen, or leave many branches of business to be monopolized by Republicans. This seems to be a strange conclusion. Have we not been told by that paper times without number, that if employers would only be content with a reasonable profit they could employ white labor at high wages, and still make money enough? Why then, don't that paper and its political friends act on this principle? It is no answer at all to say that they are forced to do otherwise because Republicans do. Let them be content with small profits, not try to make inordinate gains, and cease striving to become members of that "aristocracy of wealth" which they so bitterly condemn. Besides, it is not true that Republicans take the lead in employing Chinese labor, and that Democrats are thus forced to adopt the same policy. Wherever a Democrat sees a chance to employ cheap labor he jumps at it quite as eagerly as the "bloated bondholding Radical of the infernal Union League" does. It just suits a Democrat who has a piece of work to do, to find an opportunity of getting it done for very little money. On an occasion of this kind he forgets utterly his prejudices against color. His political principles are silenced by the prospect of saving a quarter of a dollar on the sawing of a cord of wood. He does not hire a Chinaman with regret, and because a Republican neighbor does; but he hires him without a reluctant thought, and then joyfully reflects that he has saved money by the operation. Is it Republican example that causes so many of our Democratic brethren to employ Chinese in their kitchens? Is kitchen work a business in which they are compelled to employ Chinese, in order that they may be able to compete with Republican housekeepers? Where was the Republican example that caused Democrats to take the lead in employing Chinese labor in woolen factories in our State? This pretence that Democrats employ Chinese labor with reluctance, and only because the Republicans force them to do it, is inexpressibly silly and ridiculous. A Democrat who has a job of work to be done likes cheap labor as well as another man. He is as glad to buy cheap labor as cheap boots, and looks only to his own personal interest in both transactions.

But the Herald has a proposition to remedy the state of things which it deplores. It says: "Societies to discourage the employment of Chinese could be formed, and they would soon rid the country of their presence. Such societies could be formed now, and should be. Organizations to discourage the employment of Chinese would operate with good effect." Very well; let the experiment be tried. And as some of our Democratic friends are manifesting so much feeling on the subject, we have a right to expect them to take the lead in the movement. Let a meeting be called at once. Bring in Democrats of respectability and influence, like Col. Kelly and Gen. Miller, to give weight and dignity to the movement. Call on our Democratic friends of the Oregon City factory to attend. Consult all the leading men of the party, and see what they think about it. And then, when the men who represent the intelligence, property and character of the Democratic party consent to participate in these movements "to discourage the employment of Chinese," we promise our assistance in the cause. We can safely make this promise, for no Democrat of sense would join in such a chimerical project, any more than he would invest his fortune in erecting works to extract sunbeams from cucumbers. No intelligent working men of any party would expect such a movement "to operate with good effect." The man who thinks of it will be amazed at the shallowness and absurdity of such a proposition and still more amazed that any person endowed with reason should propose such a thing in good earnest. It is precisely as if some one should urge us to hold meetings to discourage the purchase of cheap goods, and to induce us to buy of those dealers who sell at high prices. But we hope the Herald will press this matter. Let it publish a call for a meeting "to discourage the employment of Chinese labor," and see what will come of it. Let it insist that its party shall be organized on this basis for the next campaign.

The proposition which that paper makes for the organization of societies for the purpose designated, if noticed at all, will be received with contempt and derision by two-thirds of its party.

In General.

A Democratic cotemporary is indignant at a trick which the "Radicals" are trying to play on its party. It has discovered a scheme whereby these enemies of all that is good and virtuous are endeavoring to circulate reading matter among the Democracy; and it declares that it will not give countenance to any such nefarious scheme. Why, if the Democracy are allowed to read, the first thing we know they will be bolting the ticket, and that will never do!

The severe rebuke administered by the Victoria Colonist to the Herald for its ridiculous gasconade about seizing British Columbia hurts our mercurial neighbor. He endeavors to obtain a cataplasm for the blisters received in the chastisement, by representing himself as an American victim of British abuse and outrage! It is simply an attempt to obtain American sympathy by appealing to supposed American prejudices against Great Britain. Who shall say that the editor of the Herald is not entitled sympathy as a martyr? But he tries to get even by alluding to the Colonist as "an English paper unlawfully published on American soil at Victoria, Washington Territory." The British flag will come down now!

The dispatches of late have had much to say about the Southern Commercial Convention which is soon to be held at Louisville. It is notably the case that during the last two years a very large number of conventions have been held for the purpose of aiding our various industries or developing new ones. This fact indicates that our people generally are waking up to the necessity of repairing the waste of war, of replacing that which it had destroyed by better material; and, above all, of directing their attention to production, both as respects manufactures and agriculture, instead of attempting to make fortunes by mere speculative transactions, which in the end must collapse for want of material upon which to feed.

A party of prospectors who have been ranging through the mountains near the head of the North Umpqua, report the discovery of extensive gold diggings in that region.

The Slow Shilling.

The experiences of these times are teaching the business men of unbusiness-like habits in San Francisco the error of their old methods. They are beginning to realize that permanent mercantile prosperity cannot be based on a system of high interest, large rents, slow sales and great profits. The railroad has broken into this mode of doing business, and the cheaper capital, superior enterprise, and more rapid transactions of Eastern merchants tell heavily against the trade of San Francisco. The Bulletin of the 14th inst. has an article on this subject, in which, under the caption, "Impending Changes in Business," it remarks that the evidences of Eastern competition are becoming generally apparent. "It was thought," says that paper, "that the opening of the railroad would stimulate trade, but it came at a period of depression all over the country; hence times instead of becoming brisk continue very dull." The Bulletin here has not fully explained the matter. "Times" in California continue very dull because of the competition which the railroad instantly brought about, and which it steadily maintains, between the Eastern and California modes of doing business. But further on in the same article the Bulletin probes nearer to the core of the matter. After speaking of the increasing debilitation of trade in San Francisco, it asks, "What is the remedy?" and answers the question thus:

Manifestly the remedy is to count dimes as the people do in the Eastern States, instead of counting only dollars. Live less expensively—economize in business. We must trade with interior towns, but if we cannot obtain such profits as we received of old, we must sell for less. "A nimble sixpence" must take the place of the slow shilling. Sales must increase as expenses diminish. If a merchant finds he can sell double the quantity of goods at half the profit, he realizes as much money during the year as he would otherwise; or if he can cut down expenses both in doing business and in living, he may come out well enough. * * * In California we have wasted means. Money has come easy and gone easy. Some have got rich, but the multitude have neglected their opportunities up to the present time. They will now begin to experience competition. Some of us will perhaps have our ideas sharpened by what we shall see others do, and profit from experience. In this case we shall not be injured, but probably have greater prosperity than ever. The opening of the railroad must bring competition in business; it must also bring competition in labor; but it does not follow that competition in these two fields will injure us. We know that an increase of population will benefit the State; hence it has been sought for years past. We take it for granted that neither the highest profits in trade, nor the highest wages for labor, bring the greatest measure of prosperity to a community in the aggregate, nor to the individual, for we realize that the richest communities and the richest individuals are seldom found in isolated countries where wages and prices are the highest.

These remarks will also apply in some degree in Oregon, and the lesson which California is now learning should not be lost upon us here.

Record of Sir John Franklin's Death.

Some of the California papers print documents which purport to be a record of the death of Sir John Franklin, the Arctic explorer. The Chronicle of San Francisco says the discovery was made by James Daly, of the firm of Daly & Rodgers, lumber merchants, San Buenaventura. Mr. Daly, walking on the coast, accidentally stumbled on a worn-out battered looking bag, made out of seal skin and hermetically sealed. Curiosity induced him to open it, and inside he found the following remarkable documents:

RECORD OF SIR JOHN FRANKLIN'S DEATH.

It consists of a piece of paper 13 by 10 inches in size, and so mutilated that it is extremely difficult to decipher what is on it. Printed in six languages is the following:

Whoever finds this paper is requested to forward it to the Secretary of the Admiralty, London, with a note of the time and place at which it was found, or, if more convenient, to deliver it for that purpose to the British Consul at the nearest port.

The writing is as follows:

H. M. Ships Erebus and Terror, May 28, 1847. Wintered in the Ice in Lat. 70 deg. 5 min. N., Lon. 98 deg. 23 min. W.

Having wintered in 1845-6 at Beechy Island in Lat. 74 deg. 43 min. 28 sec. N., Lon. 91 deg. 39 min. 15 sec. W., after having ascended Wellington Channel to Lat. 77 deg., and returned by the West side of Cornwallis Island.

Sir John Franklin commanding the Expedition. All well.

Party consisting of 2 officers and 6 men left the ships on Monday, 24th May, 1847.

GRAHAM GORE, Lieut.

CHAS. F. DES VOEUX, Mate.

Around the margin and on the available space outside the printing the following is inscribed:

H. M. ships Erebus and Terror were deserted on the 22d of April, five leagues N. N. W. of here, having been last seen September 12, 1846. The officers and crews, consisting of 105 souls, under the command of Captain F. R. M. Crozier, landed here in lat. 69 degrees 37 minutes 42 seconds N., long. 98 degrees 41 minutes W. Sir John Franklin died on the 11th June, 1847, and the total loss by death in the expedition has been to this date, nine officers and fifteen men.

JAS. FITZJAMES, Capt. H. M. S. Erebus.

F. R. M. CROZIER,
Captain and Senior Officer.

And start on to-morrow, 26th, for Back's Fish river.

The above is a transcript of this strange document committed to the care of "Greenland's icy ocean" just 21 years ago. Who shall tell where it has been since? In what iceberg's frozen bosom has it traversed the northwest passage, and whither during these long years has it wandered in its Arctic prison until the tropical sun of the Pacific thawed it free and gave it to the waves to bear whither they would. It is a relic of interest for all. It is the parting word of a few brave navigators committed to the waves in the hope that an allwise Providence might direct it where friends, relatives and countrymen could hear their last message full of hope and courage. But a few months passed from the time it was written and they all found graves beneath the frozen fields of the Arctic, man after man of their noble band slowly succumbing to the freezing grasp of that fearful region and dying far from all those man holds most dear. How strange that after 21 years the frail bark on which they relied to send their message should at last come to shore in California, thousands of miles from England, and that the telegraph should flash its news and import to those at home who had long forgotten them.

We give this story as we find it in the Chronicle, only adding that we do not think it is entitled to much credibility.

NEW ISSUES.—The Chicago Times of the 4th inst. has the following. It is the Democratic doctrine now all over the country except in Oregon and California, and under its force the Democracy of these two States will eventually be whaled into the traces:

The general demand for present and living political issues means something more than the ignoring of dead ones. Reconstruction will, without doubt, be accomplished in Mississippi and Texas within a few months, and, with the reorganization of the excluded States, the question of negro suffrage will be settled in the South. This fact, whether the Fifteenth Amendment shall become a part of the organized law or not, will, probably, or should quiet agitation upon this question, inasmuch as it is chiefly in relation to those States it has derived its importance. Neither fanatics nor Bourbons will be able to keep it open in the North when the States in which nineteen-twentieths of our negroes live have settled the question of suffrage for themselves. Such being the case, politicians will have no choice but to act on new issues, and the resolutions of political conventions the past summer, as well as those which are now daily presented by county and State conventions, show that the people are now done with "glittering generalities" in politics, and are ready to consider material interests. The Democrats have been beaten on "reconstruction" and propose to let it alone.

TO HEBREW PARENTS—RELIGIOUS INSTRUCTION.—Dr. Eckman has commenced imparting religious instruction to the children of those parents who may be desirous of committing their children under the (almost paternal) care of a man whose truly religious character and simplicity have ever most extraordinarily attuned his mind to that of simple childhood, and exercised a "magnetic" power over the juveniles brought within his influence which unregenerate minds can never acquire. The instructions will, till the new Synagogue will be completed, be given at the Washington Armory Hall, next building to the Portland Library. Till then, they will be given on the Sabbath and Holy days, after the close of the regular morning service.

By order of the President.

STOCKTON, Sept. 21.—The C. S. N. Co.'s Cornelia, on her upward trip from San Francisco last night, struck the bank near the Devil's elbow, seven miles below this city, and sprung a plank below the water line. The steamer sunk in shallow water. The freight was uninjured and the passengers were brought to the city by the steamer Tulare this morning. The sunken steamer was raised by the aid of the Weber engine steam pumps and is expected to start for San Francisco for repairs to-night.

THE FESTIVAL OF JUGGERNAUTH.—It would seem from the following statement, taken from the Friend of India, that this bloody carnival is gradually yielding to some civilized influences, and that the people of India do not find so much fun in being run over by a great car and ground to pieces under its wheels.

The Juggernauth Festival at Serampore closed on the 19th inst., after a pitiable fashion. The two great cars still stand on the roadside, half in the ditch, because the people will not pull them back to their places. In spite of the numbers hired to pull and to applaud the cars were moved, on the first occasion, only half the usual distance, and there they lie in the mud, with the idols on them and flags flying. As usual, the Brahmins applied to the authorities to order the people to pull, but, of course, in vain. The common peasantry were heard to reply to the miserable creatures who from the car urged them to pull: "It is all very well, but come and give a hand yourselves." The crowd, at which a rough census was taken, was never more than 75,000 at the highest, and rarely exceeded 35,000—a third of what it used to be. For one man there were fifty women and children. The spectacle presented by the car and idols on the Trunk Road outside of Serampore may be regarded as typical of the state of idolatry at least in and near the great cities—tottering but still defiant, with no enthusiasm and and but little faith."

SOIREES.—The Commercial is authority for saying that it is proposed by the Washington Guard to give a series of semi monthly soirees at their Armory, commencing about the middle of next month. We shall hope that the proposition will be carried out. The Guard always manages these things admirably.

ALL RIGHT.—We hear that a number of the capitalists of this city have been this week buying stock in the McMinnville canal. We look upon it as a most excellent sign that our people are becoming interested in this and similar enterprises for the development of the interior of the State.

A QUICK TRIP.—The Moses Taylor sailed from San Francisco on Saturday at 11 A. M. and arrived here last evening at 7 o'clock—eighty one hours. This is not so quick time as has been made but is much shorter than has been made for several months.

FIRE AND MARINE INSURANCE.—The Union Insurance Company of San Francisco ... Ed Backenstos Special Agent for Oregon, advertises this morning. Call around and see Ed who understands the business and can give all the information wanted.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.—The County Commissioners were in session on Monday. The business transacted was confined mostly to the auditing of deferred accounts. The assessment roll was taken under advisement till the next term, and no tax was levied.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT—NINTH CIRCUIT.—Judge Deady will go to San Francisco by the next steamer for the purpose of holding a term of the United States Circuit Court for the District of California to begin on Monday October 4th.

HOME AGAIN.—We notice in the passenger list of the Moses Taylor, the names of several of our old citizens who have been absent some time. Among them are Mr F J Northrup and wife. Jno M Drake and others.

STARTED.—The Mt Hood party, consisting of five or six young men started yesterday morning. We are promised with a few chapters, when they return, of thrilling adventures, hair breadth escapes etc.

PROPERTY OF MULTNOMAH COUNTY.—The assessment roll has not yet been pronounced corrected and complete but we learn that the total valuation of property in this county will foot up something over $5,200,000.

SOCIABLE.—The sociable at the Unitarian chapel last evening is spoken of by one who was there as a remarkably pleasant one.

OREGON.

We hear of numerous fields of wheat all over the State which have yielded this year from forty to fifty five bushels per acre.

During a thunder storm lately, an Indian woman in Sprague River valley was "struck by lightning," and instantly killed.

Parties are examining the sugar pine forests along Rogue River with a view of cutting the timber and rafting it down to the coast.

The Jacksonville Sentinel threatens citizens of that place with prosecution unless they extinguish the cockle burrs on their premises as required by law.

The steamship Pacific on a recent trip to Crescent City, struck a rock and made about thirty inches of water, damaging considerably a large amount of goods designed for Jacksonville.

The schooner Ivanhoe was launched on the 8th inst. at Coos Bay. The Webfoot, the largest vessel ever built on the Bay, sailed a few days ago for San Francisco with 465,000 feet of lumber.

Some of the ranchmen in Jackson county are troubled by a grizzly. It frequently comes down from the mountains and takes a calf for breakfast, and only a few days since regaled itself with a full grown cow.

The Gazette of Corvallis has an article headed "Distinguished Humbugs," among whom it enumerates William H Seward,—the provocation being that Mr. Seward visited Salem and Albany, and did not extend his visit to Corvallis.

From the Roseburg paper: Mr. J. F. Clark, from Gardiner City, called on us on Tuesday of this week, and informed us that the means was readily subscribed at Gardiner to purchase a steamer for service on the Umpqua, and that Mr Haun has gone to Oregon City to negotiate for the purchase of a boat for that purpose. If a purchase cannot be effected on satisfactory terms, the means subscribed will be used in building a boat of suitable dimensions for the river trade.

A writer in the Farmer says: It may be of interest to the people of Oregon, and of other States, to know that Oregon possesses more wealth in proportion to her population than any other State in the Union, more cash capital and property, saying nothing of her expansive, rich and fertile valley. According to the assessment in 1862, Oregon City was the wealthiest city in the world, according to the population, and Portland was third in the world, in the scale of wealth according to her population.

Aaron Chambers, an old settler of Rogue River valley, died on the 14th inst. His widow, says the Sentinel, has her full share of affliction. She saw her first husband, Mr. Harris, murdered by the Indians, in this valley. On the same dreadful night, her little son disappeared and was never heard of. Two years ago, her son in law, John Love, died, and last winter her only daughter, Mrs Love, and one of her grand-children, were carried off by the small-pox. She is now left alone with three remaining grand-children.

A writer at the Klamath Agency sends a letter to the Sentinel cautioning the people to be on their guard there against the Snake Indians. It is true he says that they "are not engaged in hostility now, but the point is this: There are now some 1,200 Snakes at large in their old ranges, and if they are not taken charge of, is it to be supposed that they have sufficiently repented of their past acts to make it safe for defenceless families to settle in their country? If so, I am mistaken in the Indian character, although I have been acquainted with it for the last twenty five years."

Butchered to Make a Roman Holyday

FROM MARK TWAIN'S "INNOCENTS ABROAD."

So far so good If a man has a right to feel proud of himself, and satisfied, surely it is I For I have written about the Coliseum, and the gladiators, the martyrs and the lions and yet have never once used the phrase "butchered to make a Roman holyday" I am the only free white man of mature age who has accomplished this since Byron originated the expression

Butchered to make a Roman Holyday sounds well for the first seventeen or eighteen thousand times one sees it in print, but after that it begins to grow tiresome I find it in all the books concerning Rome—and here latterly it reminds me of Judge Oliver Oliver was a young lawyer, fresh from the schools who had gone out to the deserts of Nevada to begin life He found that country, and our ways of life, there, in those early days, different from life in New England or Paris But he put on a woolen shirt and strapped a navy revolver to his person took to the bacon and beans of the country, and determined to do in Nevada as Nevada did Oliver accepted the situation so completely that although he must have sorrowed over many of his trials he never complained—that is, he never complained but once. He, two others, and myself, started to the new silver mines in the Humboldt mountains—he to be Probate Judge of Humboldt county, and we to mine The distance was two hundred miles It was dead winter We bought a two horse wagon and put eighteen hundred pounds of bacon, flour, beans, blasting powder, picks and shovels in it, we bought two sorry-looking Mexican "plugs," with the hair turned the wrong way and more corners on their bodies than there are on the mosque of Omar; we hitched up and started. It was a dreadful trip. But Oliver did not complain The horses dragged the wagon two miles from town and then gave out Then we three pushed the wagon seven miles, and Oliver moved ahead and pulled the horses after him by the bits We complained, but Oliver did not The ground was frozen, and it froze our backs while we slept, the wind swept across our faces and froze our noses. Oliver did not complain. Five days of pushing the wagon by day and freezing by night brought us to the bad part of the journey—the Forty Mile Desert, or the Great American Desert, if you please. Still, this mildest-mannered man that ever was had not complained. We started across at eight in the morning, pushing through sand that had no bottom, toiling all day long by the wrecks of a thousand wagons, the skeletons of ten thousand oxen; by wagon-tires enough to hoop the Washington Monument to the top, and ox-chains enough to girdle Long Island; by human graves, with our throats parched, always, with thirst; lips bleeding from the alkali dust; hungry, perspiring, and very, very weary, so weary that when we dropped in the sand every fifty yards to rest the horses, we could hardly keep from going to sleep no complaints from Oliver none the next morning at three o'clock, when we got across, tired to death. Awakened two or three nights afterward at midnight, in a narrow canyon, by the snow falling on our faces, and appalled at the imminent danger of being "snowed in," we harnessed up and pushed on till eight in the morning, passed the "Divide" and knew we were saved. No complaints. Fifteen days of hardship and fatigue brought us to the end of the two hundred miles, and the Judge had not complained. We wondered if anything could exasperate him We built a Humboldt house It is done in this way. You dig a square in the steep base of the mountain, and set up two uprights and top them with two joists. Then you stretch a great sheet of "cotton domestic" from the point where the joists join the hill-side down over the joists to the ground; this makes the roof and the front of the mansion; the side and back are the dirt walls your digging has left. A chimney is easily made by turning up one corner of the roof Oliver was sitting alone in this dismal den, one night, by a sage-brush fire, writing poetry; he was very fond of digging poetry out of himself—blasting it out when it came hard He heard an animal's footsteps close to the roof, a stone or two and some dirt came through and fell by him He grew uneasy and said "Hi!—Hi!" clear out from there, can't you!"—from time to time. But by and by he fell asleep where he sat, and pretty soon a mule fell down through the chimney! The fire flew in every direction, and Oliver went over backwards. About ten nights after that, he recovered confidence enough to go to writing poetry again. Again he dozed off to sleep, and again a mule fell down the chimney. This time, about half of that side of the house came in with the mule. Struggling to get up, the mule kicked the candle out and smashed most of the kitchen furniture, and raised considerable dust. These violent awakenings must have been annoying to Oliver, but he never complained. He moved to a mansion on the opposite side of the canyon, because he had noticed the mules did not go there One night about eight o'clock he was endeavoring to finish his poem when a stone rolled in—then a cow's foot appeared below the canvas—then part of a cow—the after part. He leaned back in dread, and said "Hooy! hooy! get out of this!" and the cow struggled manfully—lost ground steadily—dirt and dust streamed down, and before Oliver could get away, the entire cow crashed through on to the table and made a shapeless wreck of everything!

Then, for the first time in his life, I think, Oliver complained, He said:

"This thing is growing monotonous!"

The Pacific Railroad.

WILL IT PAY DIVIDENDS TO THE STOCKHOLDERS.

[Correspondence of the Chicago Tribune.]

CHICAGO, August 28th.—The Central Pacific which has much more way business than the Union in proportion to its length, is just about paying running expenses and keeping itself in repair. If the Union is not paying, or is not soon made to, it will not be Colonel Hammond's fault. The force along the road not actually required has been discharged. But the most important step he has taken to turn money into the company's coffers is the organizing of an express company to supersede Wells, Fargo & Co, who have been notified to leave the road on the 15th proximo. This is unusual in this country, I believe, but fair. It is generally to our interest that the road should pay, and the Union Pacific Express can be nothing worse than a monopoly at all events, which Wells, Fargo & Co have always been I am not complaining of them, however If they charge high they fulfil their contracts Your goods were delivered promptly, coaches at Atchison for Portland, Oregon, or Fort Benton, Montana, 1,500 to 2,000 miles distant, you knew well you would get there on time. The Central Pacific have already such an express, and Wells, Fargo & Co. being denied the privileges of either road, it about closed them out. Their stock, amounting to $10,000,000, is really worth about the price of price sixteen cents, for their remaining stage lines in the West and California, buildings, etc., are no doubt worth a million to a million and a half. They sold, sometime since, the route between this city and Dupuis to Salisbury & Gilmer, and most recently to the same parties (who are proving worthy successors), the route from Corrinne to Montana Last week they sold fine stables in this city to Brigham, who will use them as a wagon factory They will hardly continue their banking house here after closing up their express business, and so, Wells, Fargo & Co, good bye. Sic transit, one by one, the glories of this as a metropolitan city But I shall not be among those, if any, who will much regret the lapsing of the Pacific Railroad into the hands of the Government. Build as a national necessity why should it not be run as such, the same as the mails? There would then be no stockholders to pay dividends to The freight and passenger tariff might be taxed low enough to catch all possible business, and then, if there should be a deficiency, the same made up by appropriation from the Treasury. But if there be any? Hardly; and the Western country would soon double its wealth, population and productiveness, when the railroad established on a sound paying basis, could be sold for perhaps, to cancel the principal of the bonds Of course the consent of the holders of the first mortgage bonds would have to be obtained before this experiment could be even tried. But it is not likely to be, unless it should come to pass that the State of these bonds a man held the proper he should be.

General Spinner and the Bank of California

To the Editor of the New York Times—Inclosed you have certain extracts from the San Francisco papers charging Secretary Boutwell and General Spinner with corruption in making transfers of gold between New York and San Francisco, which charges are, of course, perfectly ridiculous and unfounded.

The facts of the case were as follows Messrs Seligman & Co, wrote on the 10th of August to General Spinner that, inasmuch as he had a large amount of gold in San Francisco, which would cost the Government one per cent. to bring to New York, besides the insurance, they propose to deposit a million of gold with the Sub-Treasurer of New York, and would receive the same amount, on telegraph from him, and do it for three-quarters of one per cent.

This proposition General Spinner accepted and when it became known at San Francisco the Bank of California applied for the same privilege at the same rate of premium, which, owing to the absence of General Spinner from Washington was delayed a few days and on the return of General Spinner, promptly accepted

Some two years ago Messrs J & W, Seligman proposed to furnish the Government with greenback currency, which the Government needed there to pay employes and officers of the Government free of charge, whereas the Government had up to that time been compelled to ship large quantities by express at an expense of one half to one per cent and have so deposited large amounts

All the transactions made between the Treasury and Messrs. Seligman have proven beneficial to the Treasury and the unwarranted remarks now made against Mr. Boutwell General Spinner and the Messrs. Seligman are no doubt inspired by individuals or corporations who have in vain invoked heaven and earth to get control of the San Francisco Assay Office and Mint, which Mr Boutwell has very properly refused to accede to as such a transfer would not only against all law and usage but would give the control of the gold and silver bullion of the Pacific Coast to a corporation of speculators and thus induce an extension of their already gigantic adventures In the possible event of collapse or failure, ruin might be brought upon the entire Coast

ONE WHO KNOWS

"It will be borne in mind that the Mint at Philadelphia the Mint at New Orleans and the Mint at San Francisco act as Sub-Treasuries at their respective points,—Times

GOVERNOR HAIGHT AND SENATOR CASSERLY —Governor Haight, of California and Senator Casserly are so opposed to the Chinese that they propose to adopt the cardinal policy of the Chinese Government, viz. the exclusion of foreigners This would indicate that Haight Casserly and the Chinese are about on the same level of political intelligence and, therefore, if the Chinese were extensively admitted into the State they might beat the Democracy in the race of life Hence their alarm The Democratic party always labored under a chronic fear that the negro if left free to run the race of life would come out ahead of the Democrat But only the rear nag in a drove of horses are afraid of their flanks being kicked in a race with donkeys However, the Democratic party in California as in the South, are the best judges of their own capacity, and if they think they cannot earn a livelihood in competition with the diamond-eyed worshippers of Boodh and Joss, by all means let them prove their inferiority to the Chinese by both fearing and copying them: Let them build a high wall around their State for the exclusion of Asiatics, and let them inscribe on this wall: "Erected by the Democracy of California in humble imitation of the Chinese"—Chicago Tribune, September 8th

ENDORSEMENTS.

OLYMPIA W T March 27 1869

C A WHITE Esq —Dear Sir Having examined your original map, embracing that portion of Washington Territory west of the Cascade Range I desire to add my testimony to its value Having been engaged for a number of years in the surveys from Cape Flattery to the Head of Puget Sound, I have examined this portion of your map more critically than others, and I take pleasure in vouching for its general correctness

This map will fill a want that has long been felt not only among the residents of this Territory but others who are desirous of obtaining information of this portion of the Far West, and I trust that we shall soon see it in a form suitable for general distribution

JAS S LAWSON

Asst. U S C. S

We endorse the annexed opinion of Jas S Lawson, Esq and will add that Mr Chas A. White is a practical Surveyor, and has had access to the township maps in the two Land Offices in this Territory, as also the Coast Survey charts; and we can recommend his map of Washington Territory, west of the Cascade Range of Mountains as being correct, and the only good map of the same territory that has been made.
